Saturday evening at about half past four o'clock fire destroyed the residence occupied by Mr. Joseph Perry at the Macey mines. The house was a total loss but a portion of the furniture was saved. The house was insured for $500, but there was no insurance on the furniture. It required hard work on the part of those who were fighting the fire to keep it from spreading to the store building near Mr. Perry's house. The burning grass from sparks came near causing another house near by to take fire, but it was discovered in time to prevent the house from catching.

Children often cry, not from pain, but from hunger, although fed abundantly. The trouble arises from indigestion; their food is not assimilated, but devoured, by worms. A few doses of White's Cream Vermifuge will destroy the worms, when the children will begin to thrive at once. Price 25 cents. For sale by Crenshaw & Young. 7-6ml

Mr. Sid Loomis, the bustling general manager and superintendent of the Missouri Pacific railroad at this point, did a nice Colorado business this morning, a number of parties leaving on the special low rates as advertised from the 1st to the 9th of this month. All these parties went through over the Missouri Pacific, the picturesque and elegantly equipped short line to Pueblo. Several other parties will take advantage of the low $16.30 rate to Denver and return between now and the 9th of this month.

"Uncle Remus" and Miss Wyatt.

Mr. Joel Chandler Harris says of Miss Wyatt's book—published by McClure, Phillips & Co.—"I find 'Every One His Own Way' delightfully refreshing. Every one of the stories or sketches is enjoyable. These stories have long been waiting for some one to write them. They are all full of marrow, and from beginning to end the book is sound and wholesome. Old Uncle Esop is not in it with this collection of true fables. Their moral is not tagged on at the end, but is deftly worked in like the stitches in a quilt. Please send the author my hearty congratulations." And in response to the publishers' enquiry if he might be quoted, Mr. Harris replied: "Did I really say a capital thing about that young woman's book? Then blaze it forth, for such a book as that cannot have too wide a circulation. I have read it twice, and parts of it three times."

Rev. H. A. Duboc.

The Rev. Henry Alfred Duboc, priest-in-charge of St. John's mission in Chicago, died suddenly, after a very brief illness, in St. Luke's hospital on Tuesday, June 11. He was ordained deacon by Bishop Cox in 1873 and priest by Bishop Watson in 1890. He was sometime rector of St. Philip's and Trinity churches, Trenton, Mo. He was buried from St. James's church, Chicago, Bishop Anderson and the Rev. J. H. Hopkins officiating. Mr. Duboc formerly preached at the Episcopal church in this city and has many friends here who will hear with regret of his death.

County News.

Born, near Corder, Mo., to the wife of Martin Poese, on Friday, June 21, 1901, a girl.

The Missouri Ledger of Odessa complains of the large crop of "mad daubers" in that town.

A number of persons received the ordinance of baptism at the M. E. Church in Higginsville last Sunday night.

Odessa is minus its street sprinkler which, according to the Missouri Ledger of that town, "went 'bump'" on the town recently.

Rev. F. J. Biltz, pastor of the Lutheran St. Paul's church at Concordia, has been granted a vacation by his church until September.

W. S. Standfield, formerly from near Odessa this county has been appointed United States Commissioner for the 6th district of the Indian Territory.

The Concordia Tomato Growers' association is considering the advisability of planting a number of acres of land with sweet corn for the canning factory.

Sparks from an engine on the C. & A. railroad set fire last week to a field of wheat belonging to H. Kalthoff, near Alma, and burned about sixteen acres of fine wheat.

The committee to receive bids for the new hospital building at the Confederate home rejected all bids received at their last meeting and they have set July 6th to receive new bids.

Mr. Thomas M. Endley and Miss Florence Ridgway of Higginsville eloped to Kansas City and were married there at 6 o'clock Thursday evening June 27th. They returned to Higginsville on the late train Thursday evening.

Here and There.

Curious, isn't it, that those foreign countries are unable to realize the advantage it will be to them to admit our products free, while we put a prohibitive tariff on what they have to sell? But those foreigners always were dense.—Rochester Herald.

Senator Platt has announced his intention to retire from the senate at the close of his term in 1903, but at the same time he has been careful to add that he does not mean to retire from politics. It appears, then, there will be a senatorial vacancy to be filled, but the boss will reserve to himself the right of naming the man to fill it.—San Francisco Call.

Senator Mark Hanna refers to the "unparalleled prosperity" as being the "normal condition of things." That a normal condition of things should be unparalleled is an idea similar to that expressed by George Bernard Shaw when he declared in substance that he was regarded as a freak simply because he was unique in being able to reason correctly.—Washington Star.

Correspondent Curtis, prowling through Virginia, has unearthed the fact that George Washington was jilted twice and "thrown down very hard" by two fair damsels before he found the attractive widow whom he married. Thomas Jefferson was also grief-stricken because a lady named Belinda rejected him, but was subsequently consoled by a widow named Martha. These episodes may be taken to indicate the superior judgment of widows in selecting husbands.—Minneapolis Tribune.
